

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Post-doctoral fellowship ERC at 100% in contemporary history for 3 years

The Faculty of Arts and Humanities at the University of Neuchâtel is recruiting a post-doctoral fellow for the project "Towards a decentred history of the Middle East: Transborder spaces, circulations, 'frontier effects' and state formation, 1920-1946" (BORDER) funded by the European Research Council, under the direction of Professor Jordi Tejel.

- Start date: 1st September 2017 or upon agreement
- Requirements: Candidates must hold a doctoral degree in contemporary history with an excellent track record in the field of Middle Eastern History
Candidates that expect to receive their Ph.D. by June 30, 2017 should provide documentation from their home institution confirming this schedule
Strong interest in the topics of borders, trans-border circulations, refugees, and the Middle East
Capacity to work both collectively and individually
Ability to produce high quality research papers
Very good command of Ottoman Turkish, modern Turkish, and English. Knowledge of French is advantageous
- Tasks: Academic and administrative assistance
Complete peer-reviewed publications and conference papers
- What we offer: The chosen candidate will be recruited to work at 100% for a total of three years
The successful candidate will participate in well-funded programmes (EU Horizon 2020) and get benefit of a highly competitive scientific environment
- Treatment: Salaries are according to University's salary scale
- Assignment: Legal

Interested candidates should send an application containing a letter of motivation, a detailed curriculum vitae including two academic referees, two relevant publications, and the Ph. D. thesis by June 11, 2017 to the following address nadine.eschmann@unine.ch

All call for applications at the University of Neuchâtel are open to both women and men

Neuchâtel, May 18, 2017