Immigration and Social Systems: Collected Essays of Michael Bommes

Edited by Christina Boswell and Gianni D’Amato

Michael Bommes was one of the most brilliant and original migration studies scholars of our time. This posthumous collection brings together a selection of his most important work on immigration and the welfare state, immigrant integration, discrimination, irregular migration, migrant networks and migration policy research.

Christina Boswell is Professor of Politics at the School of Social and Political Science at the University of Edinburgh. Gianni D’Amato is Professor of Migration and Citizenship studies at the University of Neuchâtel and Director of the Swiss Forum of Migration and Population Studies (SFM).

“This collection demonstrates the insight and rigour of Bommes’ fundamental contributions to immigration studies. It provides sharp, essential observations of social and political responses to immigration – to be read by anyone interested in these issues.’

Andrew Geddes, Professor of Politics, University of Sheffield

“In Bommes, the academy lost a scholar with penetrating analyses of migration, the welfare state and social systems where the two interact. By completing his last project, Boswell and D’Amato have done scholarship a lasting service. A major contribution to public debate and a tribute to a very great man.’

Randall Hansen, Canada Research Chair in Immigration & Governance, University of Toronto

“Michael Bommes was undoubtedly the most theoretically inspiring migration scholar working in German. This excellent collection makes some of his best work accessible to a broader English-speaking audience.’

Christian Joppke, Chair in General Sociology, University of Bern
