

IBIOL EXTERNAL SEMINAR

20 MARCH 2025

12:15–13:15

ROOM F-200

Pascale Flury

University of Basel

From adversaries to guardians: the multifaceted role of microbes in plant health

Crops are constantly threatened by pathogens and pests. Beneficial microbes can be used to protect plants, but fundamental knowledge is still lacking for effective application in agriculture. The focus of my research is on understanding disease-suppressing composts and plant-beneficial Pseudomonas.