Construire son propre chemin : leçons tirées de la recherche, de l'industrie et de l'entrepreneuriat

Après ses études à l'EPFL, Laurent Balmelli a mené une carrière entre la Suisse, les États-Unis et le Japon avant de devenir entrepreneur. Il a fondé deux entreprises technologiques, l'une rachetée par Snapchat et l'autre par Citrix. Il partagera les leçons de ce parcours et ce qu'il ferait différemment s'il repartait aujourd'hui de zéro, à l'ère de l'IA.
